By Aston and Lewis, Einstein House Captains

During our Enrichment day we split into houses and worked together on several tasks with the theme 'Honesty'.

We learnt about the story of Zacchaeus

As a group, we were given scenarios linked to things that happen on our playground during breaktimes. We talked about what we would do in these situations and how we could apply what we had learnt from the Zacchaeus story.

We discussed the story of 'The Boy Who Cried Wolf.' In our groups, we then came up with our own stories with the theme of honesty. We used comic strips to bring our stories to life.

We looked at several quotes about honesty and used these to create a piece of art work. Some children made up their own quotes.

The first enrichment day of the year was really fun and we enjoyed getting to know more members of Einstein.
